

Dental Sealants

One of the most common areas for cavities is the chewing surface of the back teeth. That's because your toothbrush can't clean inside all the tiny grooves to brush away food and germs. Dental sealants cover and protect those grooves so cavity-causing germs can't get inside. Sealants cost less than fillings, are usually covered by insurance, and can save you money. Plus, they protect the teeth for 5-10 years or longer.

That's sure to make everyone smile.

Ask your dentist if sealants are right for you and your family!
